Trustees get dead rat

LEMONT -- The Village Board was visited Oct. 26 at its regular meeting by a small, furry creature that inhabited, at the time, a brown paper bag.

The animal, a dead rat, was brought to the meeting by Marvin Stein, 930 Singer Ave., but its purpose already had been accomplished.

Stein, who said he killed the rat in his yard that afternoon, asserted that he brought it to dramatize the need for extermination in his area.

But Trustee Barry Ladd, village Health Committee chairman, already had announced that extermination procedures were to begin the next day in Stein's area.

Ladd had reported that Trustee Harry Mentch discovered rats consuming food left out for neighborhood dogs while investigating a complaint of rats. Further investigation reportedly showed rats burrowing under several houses in the neighborhood.

Stein, uninhibited by Ladd's request to listen to a repeat of Ladd's earlier report, pointed out that rats can be harmful to children and pets, and said he would contact the state Health Board if something was not done.

Ladd complained that Stein was not listening.

And the rat, probably to the relief of all present, stayed in the bag.

Police raid garage, confiscate car parts

LOCKPORT -- Two men were arrested and charged with grand theft after Cook County Sheriff's Police raided a garage Tuesday, Oct. 28, at 2001 N. Collins Street.

The men, Fred L. Richard, 44, of 8249 W. 45th Street, and Thomas J. Lacey, who police said gave his address as 17204 S. 171st Street, Tinley Park, were arrested after police confiscated several thousand dollars worth of auto parts at the garage.

Police said the garage repair shop was allegedly part of a steal-to-order auto parts ring. According to police, the shop was connected to a legitimate teletype network on which Chicago area auto repair and body shops list their parts needs.

When the ring would see a call for the front end of a 1969 or 1970 automobile, they would, according to police, go out and steal a car matching the description and cut it apart with torches, with individual parts to be sold.

Police said the men dealt only in late model cars. The raid took place after Cook County Police followed a car from Chicago to Lockport. The car was identified as one stolen earlier in the day from an Illinois Central Railroad parking lot in Hazel Crest.

After the car entered the garage, police, with a search warrant also entered, and confiscated the stolen items.

Sergeant William Casey of the Criminal Intelligence Unit of the sheriff's police said it was the fourth auto repair shop raided in the Chicago area since April. Three were in Illinois and one in Indiana.

According to Casey, three more shops are under surveillance by sheriff's police, working with the State Police and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Dedication slated at Chelsea School

FRANKFORT -- Dedication and inspection of the new addition to the Chelsea School is scheduled for Thursday evening, Nov. 12.

Small-group tours of the new facilities will start at 6:30 and continue to 8:30, according to Supt. Leroy M. Olson. Each tour will take 20 to 30 minutes.

Following the tours the Frankfort PTA will serve refreshments in the multipurpose room and then conduct its regular meeting there.

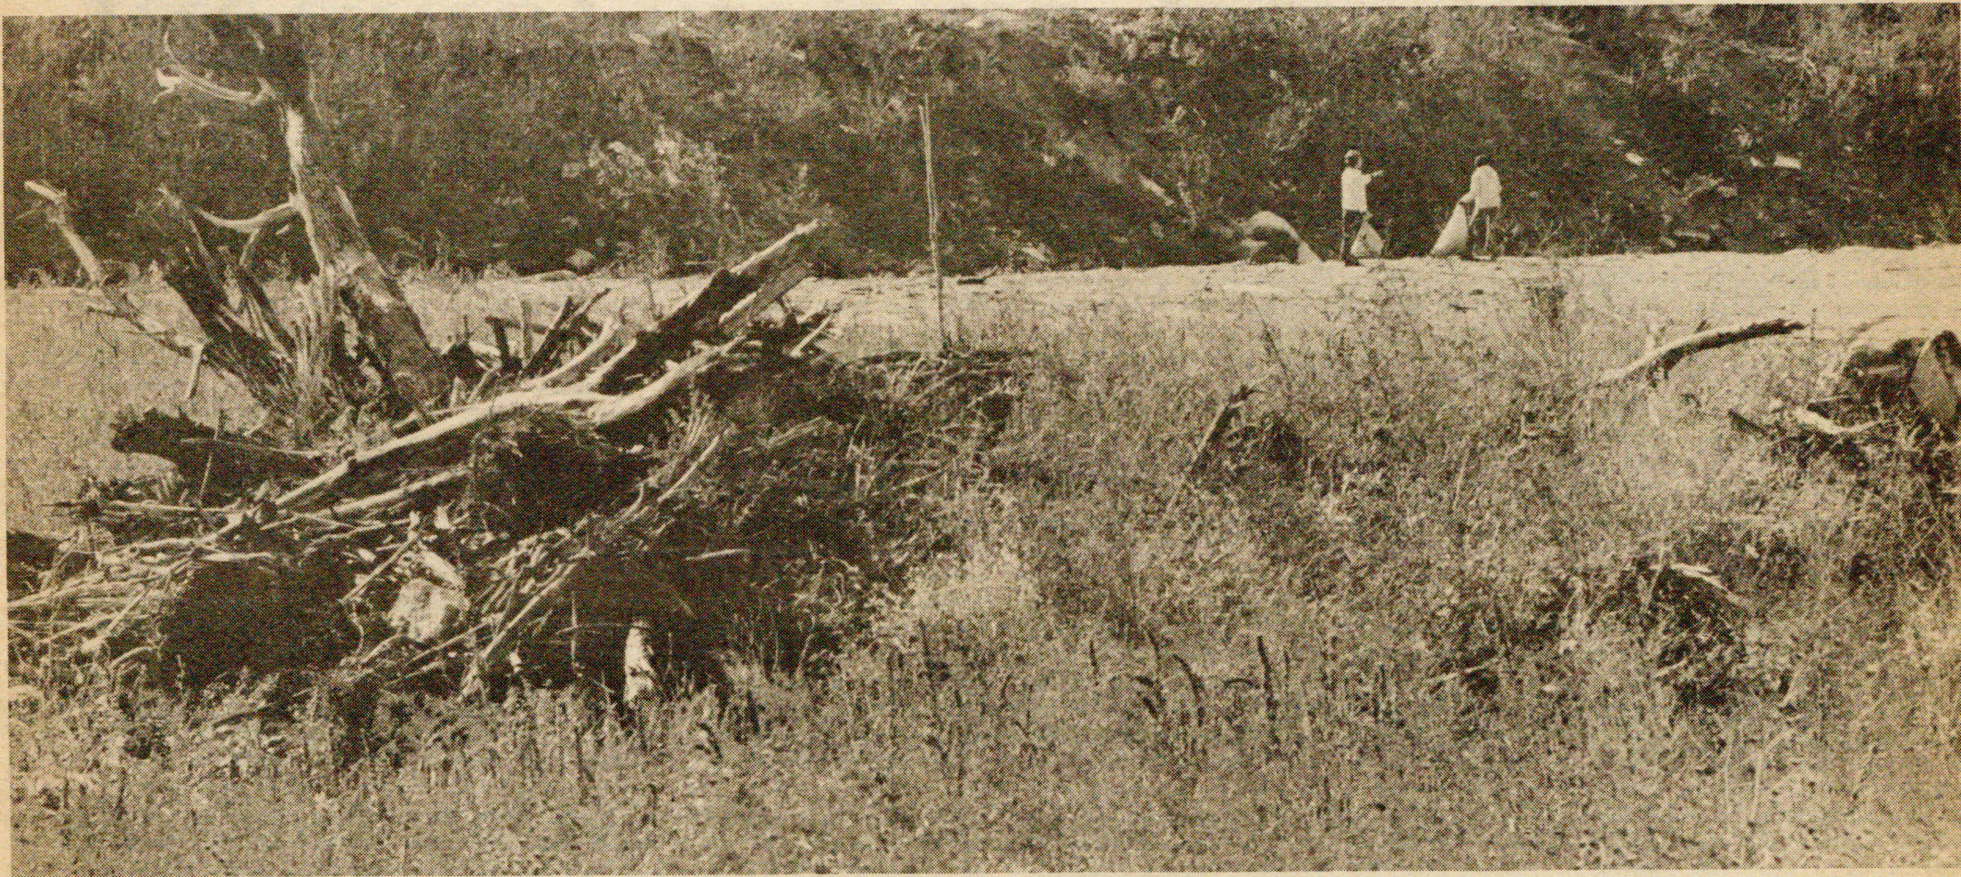

There are eight classrooms in the new addition, plus warehouse, a learning center and a small conference area. Features include: blackboard and bulletin board space, storage facilities, movable classroom walls, carpeting throughout, non-glare table and desk tops, and a conduit planned for installation of inter-room and inter-school communication.

The cost of the new addition was $312,171. Included is the partial completion of the second level, which eventually will house six more teaching stations.

Grades from kindergarten through fourth are housed at Chelsea, and the enrollment is approximately 360.

The addition has been in use since the beginning of the fall term. It is staffed with 20 teachers, two teachers' aides, a school psychologist, a principal, two secretaries and two custodians.

Two students from Lockport's Kelvin Grove School carry bags of garbage picked up along Milne Creek in Lockport Saturday. Seventh and eighth grade students from the school, along with a boy scout troop spent several hours at their task. The Lockport Lions Club provided the bags, and Western Disposal picked up the accumulated trash at the end of the day. The young people have formed a club aimed at action against pollution. After a day of picking up a variety of items, ranging from beer cans to a kitchen sink, one of the youngsters said, "Boy, if anybody in my family throws anything on the ground, I'll make them go back and pick it up!"

Bolingbrook okays Sugarbrook plans

BOLINGBROOK — Final plans for Kaufman & Broad's Sugarbrook Subdivision 5 were accepted by the Bolingbrook Village Board at its Wednesday night meeting last week. A representative of the firm said the plans now conform to the village code.

The board rejected Kaufman & Broad's preliminary plans for the Pine Meadows subdivision. The village attorney will revise the plans and return them to the contractor.

The board asked for more specifics on the usage of the preliminary plan "islands" and clarification on the maintenance of common grounds. There also was discussion on the understanding of differences between public and private streets. A Kaufman & Broad representative said the plans call for the installation of underground refuse containers which would be flush with the ground.

The board also received preliminary plans for another new subdivision, to be called Home Run of Bolingbrook, from Presbitero, Oak Lawn. The plans will be referred to the Plan Commission. The proposed subdivision, covering 150 acres, will consist of townhouses in the north quarter and single-family dwellings on the south three quarters.

Village Attorney Marlin Smith said that due to a court ruling regarding the suit filed by Citizens Utilities asking for an injunction against further building of the Bolingbrook water and sewer system, that dismissal had been denied. He said he had no indication of the reason for the ruling, but that the village will eventually win, although it will pay heavily, he added.

Sealed proposals for the building of the new village hall will be accepted until Nov. 18. The bids will be opened at the regular meeting that night. The site for the new building is on Oldfield Rd., some 200 feet east of its intersection with Rt. 53 in Bolingbrook.

Mayor Schanks welcomed back to the board Trustee Wm. Plimmer, who suffered a heart attack Aug. 12.

Lemont board okays public health nurse

LEMONT — Members of the Lemont Village Board have approved a recommendation by Trustee Barry Ladd to hire a public health nurse rather than a health officer.

The nurse will be paid $100 a month for working 52 days a year. This amounts to about $3 an hour.

Ladd said the village health committee had discussed Dr. Charles Kallick's proposal to serve as health officer on a one-third to one-half salary scale. Kallick had been offered the position of health officer two weeks previously by Mayor John Kujawa.

"Dr. Kallick's concept of public health nurse is more encompassing than the village needs," Ladd said. "He's talking about a $4,000 to $5,000 theory. A public health nurse would be sufficient for the needs of Lemont."

A village health officer is required to make regular inspections of all food facilities and industrial areas and the immunization status of public schools, but does not have to be a physician.

Ladd said one applicant for the nurse position, a registered nurse from Austin, Tex., could establish immunization at public schools and save Lemont residents thousands of dollars a year.

"She would start at the beginning of November as an employee of the village, but she would account to the Cook County public health service," he said.

She would work one full day a week administering vaccines, making inspections, setting up a file system and keeping records. Vaccines would be provided at no cost to the village by Cook County, Ladd said.

The county now has only five full-time public health nurses for the entire area, he said.

U.S. Senator Ralph T. Smith spoke briefly Sunday afternoon in Frankfort Township at ceremonies attendant on the conveyance of 30 acres of timberland and paths to the three park boards of New Lenox, Mokena and Frankfort. The ceremonies were held on top of the bath house of the swimming pool.

Valley View transferred in Sunday ceremonies

SOUTHWEST — At brief ceremonies Sunday afternoon the park boards of New Lenox, Mokena and Frankfort assumed charge of the 30 acres of woodland, formerly a part of Valley View, which will be operated as a joint property. The tract is on U.S. 30, about a quarter mile east of Wolf Rd.

Officers of the three park boards, the village boards of the three communities, and half a hundred or so area residents braved the chill wind and threatening skies to witness the occasion.

U.S. Senator Ralph T. Smith, who with Sen. Charles Percy, aided the park boards in their quest, was present but spoke briefly.

The land was given to the three park boards by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, with the understanding that the 47 acres across the highway on the south side of U. S. 30 will be zoned for commercial and industrial purposes and provided with sanitary sewer services.

The park boards are expected to float bonds to finance the sewer project.

Valley View Farm, which operated a picnic area, a tavern, restaurant and dance hall went bankrupt several years ago. The Marshall Savings and Loan Co. held a mortgage on the property and when the Marshall folded the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation ended up with the land.

When operating under receiverships Valley View Farm was not highly regarded by residents of the area. The three village presidents, Glenn Warning, Frankfort; Will Tuttle, Mokena, and Joseph Hartung, New Lenox, got together and launched a move which they hoped would take care of the situation. There was talk of making Valley View a part of the Will County Forest Preserve, or being acquired by the parks. Then the dancehall burned down.

Jensen, Edwin Yunker, Mokena, and James Gluntz, of Frankfort, comprise the committee that will make the recommendations for development and operation of the recreational property.

Board to act on development

MOKENA — Lawyers are working out final details of the proposed pre-annexation agreement covering the Owens Land Trust planned unit development. The agreement has been reviewed by the Zoning Board of Appeals and the Planning Commission, and will come before the Village Board for final action at the regular meeting Nov. 10.

There 225 acres in the proposed development, which runs from the Michigan Central tracks on the south to practically the Mokena village limits to the north. A lake to be built south of U.S. 30 has been started. The site is just west of the Owens homestead.

At the regular meeting of the Mokena council last week there was considerable discussion of the sewage treatment problem. The state Environmental Protection Agency (formerly known as the state sanitary water board) headed by Clarence Klassen is the high, low and middle justice on sewer matters. Anyone who wants to put in a sewer main must have permission of the state agency. And if the agency thinks the treatment facilities are nearing their capacity it quite likely denies a permit to expand the services.

Frankfort had to add a polishing pond to its treatment system a couple of years ago and now the state is suggesting further improvements, just as it has demanded a polishing pond at Mokena and told New Lenox that it must do something about enlarging its treatment plant. New Lenox has the project started but it has been tied up now since Aug. 24, when the carpenters went on strike, and picketed the job along with practically all others then in progress.

The three committees have been trying to get some state and federal money to aid them in improving their sewage treatment plants but without success.

James Clarage, Mokena's planner, told the board last week that it was doubtful if any of the villages received financial help unless they conformed with the decrees of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission.

As of now, Clarage said, this commission would do away with individual sewage treatment plants in this section of Will County. It would have New Lenox, Frankfort, Mokena, Arbury Hills and presumably that subdivision known as Frankfort Square and Prestwick, hook up with a Joliet sewage treatment plant.

This plan is expected to become effective 50 years from now but no one has said what communities are to do in the meantime. Mokena, Frankfort and New Lenox, in company with scores of municipalities pay dues to the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission. In some way, it was stated, this planning group has become the controlling power. No municipality can get any federal money unless it has the OK of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission, it was brought out.

Mayor Will Tuttle, of Mokena, said the village boards of Mokena, Frankfort and New Lenox are planning a joint meeting in the hope that by presenting a united front to the planning commission it might win some concessions.

In other business transacted at the Mokena village board meeting a contract was let for enlarging the village hall for approximately $9,000. James Horras is to do the carpentry for $3,396; Edward Langland, the brickwork for $1,645; Amon Heating, the heating and air conditioning, $1,695; Spiecker Electric, the wiring for $995. The board also set aside $769 for contingencies and $500 for painting. The finance committee is to give the final OK on the project.

The board adopted a new schedule of building permit fees. Work under $200, nothing; $200 to $500, $4 fee; $501 to $1,000, $5; $1,001 to $10,000, $5 plus $2.50 for each $1,000 over the first one; over $10,000, a fee of $27.50 plus $1.50 per $1,000 for each $100 above $10,000.

Trustee Edward Haislet is to check on garbage complaints. There have been complaints by some older citizens that they have no need for garbage pickup and they don't want to pay for it.

Village and Rock Island Lines in argument over railroad putting up billboard type signs on its station platform without a permit.

The strip annexation of the townline road between Francis and Marley roads has been dissolved.

Harold Beebe, civil defense director, reported he has an emergency radio system operating out of his home and when the Lincoln-Way Police Communications Center is opened at New Lenox it will be able to relay weather warnings and any other warnings around the clock. The schools have receivers. Beebe is investigating emergency shelter possibilities. He also is listing trucks and station wagons for possible use as emergency vehicles.

Two members of the resources conservation class at Lincoln-Way High School, Diane Skolnick and Thomas Dolle, attended the board meeting. They were informed of the steps Mokena had taken to combat pollution and the conservation class was invited to present any findings of pollution or recommendations for pollution control, to the village board.

Wins trophy

NEW LENOX — The Oakview Junior High School band recently won a first-place trophy at the Morris Corn Festival. There were seven other bands in competition for the parade.

The Oakview band also won a first-place trophy in its division at the recent Plainfield homecoming parade.

Residents protest rezoning

LEMONT — About 15 residents appeared at a village board meeting Oct. 26 with a variety of problems for the board's attention.

Several women attended the meeting to ask the board's objection to a zoning change on property east of Archer Ave. and about a mile and three-fourth beyond the village limits.

A hearing was conducted Monday afternoon by the Cook County Board of Zoning Appeals, which asked the village to give an opinion on the change.

Rezoning of the property would be from B-1 (light industry) to B-5 (heavier industry), to accommodate the construction of a machine shop with two men employed on a 40-hour week. A tavern is located on the property.

Trustee Jack Weber, who attended the zoning hearing for the village, said the business would handle heavy machinery. Metal scraps would be picked up weekly, and there would be no wood scraps.

Mrs. Claudette Walschlag said about 50 residents had attended the hearing protesting the rezoning but were unable to attend the meeting that night. About five other persons were present with her to request the board's disapproval of the change.

"Our main concern is that it's a residential area and we'd like to keep it that way," she said. "If for any reason he wanted to sell his business, anyone else could buy it and put up something worse."

Trustee Art Nagle commented that descriptions of the proposed business sounded like it could become a junk yard.

"I don't think it will do any good for the village," said Trustee Barry Ladd. "It's not an asset to anyone but that man. He bought it as B-1, and he can figure out something for B-1."

After the board voted to write a letter to the county board objecting to the zoning change, Mayor John Kujawa said, "I have to disagree with what Dr. Ladd said about the business being an asset. The owner of a piece of land has to use it to the highest and best category. We have rezoned all of Lemont Township, and we have space for businesses of this type."

Another four women were present at the meeting with four requests regarding the Oakwood School crossing on State St. near St. Alphonsus Cemetery.

As a result of their requests the board voted to put up "No Parking" signs for 8 to 9 a.m. and 3 to 4 p.m. by the crosswalk. Police Chief Frank Sowa said he would have to order the signs specially, but that they would be put up.

He said his department also will enforce the 20-mile-an-hour school speed limit, following another request by the women. "We'll enforce it, but the first ones we're going to catch are the people who are complaining," he said.

Street Commissioner Ray Marchiniak was instructed to fill a rut on the west side of State St. and plow the west side of the street during winter so children would have a place to walk in bad weather.

Marvin Stein, 930 Singer Ave., suggested that the village paint a circle in the center of the road for the crossing guard to stand in so she can be seen by approaching traffic.

"That probably would be a good idea for everyone but the crossing guard," Ladd said, "but it would be dangerous to her." Sowa pointed out that one guard would be in danger, as cars sometimes are unable to stop if the hill is icy.

The guard now waits until traffic is clear before allowing children to cross.

Other women had complaints about the village's recent efforts to pick up leaves. Kujawa earlier in the meeting had asked the board to consider the purchase of a truck with a vacuum attachment to remove leaves at curbsides.

"I bagged leaves all day long Saturday," said Mrs. Laverne Jeans, "and those bags are expensive. I think the village should buy the truck."

Weber said he estimated such a truck would cost $18,000 to $20,000.

Harry Wetkowski, who has appeared at previous board meetings to complain of raw sewage flooding his basement when it rains, said he had found a solution to the problem — a $250 backwater valve that automatically shuts off when water is rising.

Village trustees effectively ignored his hints that the village should pay for installing the valve, and said that if he could wait two months the problem should be solved by construction on State St. which would lower the hill near St. Alphonsus Cemetery and divert storm water to another sewer.

Wetkowski said he would wait.

In other business, the board:

* Passed a resolution prepared by Village Attorney Dale Anderson supporting yesterday's $750 million pollution bond referendum. Ladd commented that while he supports efforts to clean up the environment, he does not favor giving about $4 million of the funds to the Metropolitan Sanitary District. "I would be surprised if the district did anything for Lemont," he said.

* Heard a report from Kujawa that the village has an offer to buy the waterworks. He said the village had advertised to sell the waterworks previously but received no offers. Anderson was not present to give an opinion on whether the village could sell on that offer without advertising again.

* Heard a report that state police are making available auxiliary service, including sophisticated record-keeping, crime laboratory services, vehicles and manpower to the extent a village requires it. Kujawa said that while Lemont does not need the service now, trustees should consider the offer for the future.

* Were informed that congestion discussed previously at River Rd. and Stephen, Canal and State St. had been relieved by putting up "No Parking" signs.

* Were informed that six glass block windows had been broken by vandals at the wellhouse. It was estimated they would cost $150 to repair.

A three-year crossing guard veteran, Mrs. James Dorris of Lemont confidently waves school children across the street at McCarthy Road and Freemont Street. She can be found on the job every morning and afternoon.

Parent-teacher conference

MOKENA — Next Tuesday, Nov. 10, the local public schools will have their annual parent-teacher conferences. Parents are being invited to schedule times with their children's teachers for discussions on the youngsters' progress in the first nine weeks of school. Twenty minutes will be allotted to a parent.

Some help is offered this year to parents in the form of a filmstrip, "How to Have a Successful Conference with Your Child's Teacher." It was shown at the October meeting of the PTA and also is available for viewing by parents in the library at Willowcrest School. Parents may view the film in the library on school days through Nov. 9 between 9 a.m.

Some parents who have youngsters in kindergarten will be asked to schedule their conferences next Monday, Nov. 9, because the teacher has classes in the morning and afternoon.

On Friday, Nov. 13, a marionette show, "Jack and the Beanstalk," is to be presented at Willowcrest at 9:15 a.m. and repeated at Carpenter Street School at 1:15 p.m. Parents and pre-school children are invited to attend. Children attending kindergarten that morning will be invited to stay for lunch and see the afternoon performance. They will be taken home by school bus.

Commend Lemont board for handling complaints

Members of the Lemont Village Board are to be commended on the prompt, courteous handling of residents with complaints and problems at the regular meeting Oct. 26.

It should go without saying that courtesy and promptness should be given any visitor at a board meeting. But we have seen too many meetings in other villages where residents are ignored or put off while trustees stall for time to figure out what should or should not be done.

Not so in Lemont. About 15 persons attended the Oct. 26 meeting with a variety of problems, ranging from a zoning change in an area outside village limits to school crossing requests. Each one was handled quickly, and a decision was made in their presence.

Incidentally, each person present Monday night got a decision in accordance with what he asked -- an encouraging fact for those who have been hesitant to come to the village with problems.

We do not suggest that it always will be that way, but we do think each visitor will continue to have his request heard entirely, without rebuff or hesitance.

We find it heartening, and believe Monday night visitors, as well as those who will come in the future, will too.

What is conservative?

By Herb Hall

Somewhat to my surprise, I found myself on gloomy afternoon last week reading a book by America's foremost conservative intellectual, William F. Buckley, Jr. Even more to my surprise, I found myself in agreement with much that he had to say.

In spite of a murky prose style (he likes words like "obfuscate" and "lambent"), his ideas seemed to me generally cogent (sorry, "cogent" is almost as bad as "lambent").

Mr. Buckley represents one point of view as editor of the avowedly conservative magazine, the National Review. It's essentially an upper-middle-class point of view, and it has its place in America, along with the "blue collar" point of view, the Black Panthers and the Birchers.

Like everybody else, I have my prejudices, and I must admit that I was prejudiced against Mr. Buckley before I read his book. He always seemed to me a sort of Ivy League stuffed shirt. Now I have changed my mind to some extent.

He has a right to his essentially aristocratic and anachronistic position, just as I have a right to my even more anachronistic Tory-democrat (small "d") position.

I have one thing in common with Mr. Buckley. I tend to repeat myself through sheer fascination with my own ideas. I don't know whether Mr. Buckley has a resident critic, as I have.

A couple of weeks ago I wrote a column about Jean Rouse's dog. My wife, after reading it, remarked that I had written the same thing before. I have no recollection of this.

While I save clippings of my deathless prose, with the vague idea of someday compiling the complete works of H. Warren Hall, I never can find them when I should.

But it is humiliating to find that I have not only plagiarized Benchley and Thurber, but even myself.

At one time I wrote a piece called "Requiem for the Humorists," dealing with Benchley, Thurber, Will Cuppy, Frank Sullivan, Don Herold and, I think, others. (I can't find that either.)

I can't count myself among their ranks, but I have learned some things that I have in common with them. For one, a morose and difficult disposition.

Of them all, only Benchley was always pleasant and friendly. But toward the end of his life he found it increasingly hard to write anything that even he thought was funny.

Thurber, who was almost blind before he died, deserted humor for serious and sometimes gruesome short stories.

The humorists' stories, which read as if they might have been dashed off on paper napkins at a lunch counter, cost untold agonies of composition.

The illusion of ease was best simulated, perhaps, by the British semi-humorist, Evelyn Waugh, but it was still simulated. Nobody could write like that without hard labor. He admitted it.

I don't know about Mr. Buckley. He is no writer like Benchley, Thurber or Waugh, but he has a certain amount of well placed humor, and a great deal of what is called "taste." It's a pity that he can't write a little better.

Many thinkers, unfortunately, can't write. Even more unfortunately, many writers can't think. Without false vanity, I pride myself on having struck a happy medium. The solution was simple: I don't do either very well.

Mr. Buckley's problem is more complicated. He thinks profoundly, but he has trouble conveying what he has in mind.

In my opinion, my solution is better.

Letters

Dear Mrs. Ratcliffe:

Thank you very much indeed for the thoroughly written article that appeared in the Paddock Publications. The good choice of pictures was suitably described and it delighted us to read an accurate and appropriately timed article.

I noted with interest this week that a new code has been adopted by one of the local school boards.

Naperville's elementary District 78 took official action last month to adopt an eight-point statement which is described as "a guide to acceptable behaviour."

The sheet first struck my eye because of its brevity. More and more often in recent years, local governing boards have taken to adopting policies. Almost without exception, the policy statements adopted have been lengthy, poorly written and have included not only statements of board policy, but served as a list of specific directives to administrators.

The policies have had the tendency to enroach upon areas of jurisdiction which properly belong to others.

In doing so, they have reflected in the case of the schools, for instance, first of all the personal attitudes of the board members.

The classic example was the hair code and dress prevalent a year or so ago. High school boards took upon themselves the privilege of acting upon their own interpretation of the symbolism which facial hair represent to young high school youths.

Because the symbolic interpretation in the minds of these adults, mostly men, added up to a negative social value, mustaches, beards and long sideburns were banned.

It lasted until a judge decided that the boards were out of bounds and that there is no correlation between a pupil's mustache and his ability to learn.

The length of girls' skirts also was an issue. But, at the same time that modified minis were passing inspection, although they did not always provide adequate coverage in a sitting position, girls were not allowed to wear slacks or pants suits to school.

The whole thing was apparently based on the concept that you can tell the difference between girls and boys because the first has long hair and wears skirts; the latter wears short hair and wears trousers.

A few years earlier, the boy-girl look alike movement manifested itself briefly when girls and boys wore short hair, and was, we believe, the forerunner of the present situation.

It failed to jell, we would suggest, because no one could figure out how to officially object to short hair on a girl. The opposition, needed to get a new movement established and off the ground, never really jelled.

How well the effort on the part of the establishment to repress a trend has served instead to expand that trend can be seen today.

Not only is junior wearing his hair longer, but lots of dads have turned up with longer sideburns or a mustache. Girls are wearing slacks, mom wears pants suits.

Had the hair and dress issue never been raised via the school policy route, we wonder if the present hair styles would have been widely adopted?

The establishment has lost that one and is in the process of joining.

The new guide adopted last month by the Naperville grade school board does not make the mistake of taking such an untenable position as did the high school board on hair or dress. The goals are socially valid.

But, though prefaced with "The student shall:" the statement is for the most part a recitation of the old "thou shalt not's".

They are superfluous for the most part because they are basically criminal actions and therefore within police jurisdiction; or parental responsibilities and therefore within the parental jurisdiction. Banned are tobacco, alcohol, drugs, forgery, truancy, and criminal actions.

The one that does belong is the policy that belongs in every policy manual.

It simply states, "achieve goals through honest means."

It is a policy position which adopted by boards, administrators, students and parents alike would serve our society well.

If adopted by all, the use of our public schools as a social and political tool might be eliminated and they could all get down to their real task, providing an educational environment for our children.

Proposed Illinois Constitution

(This is the eighth installment of the Proposed Constitution of the State of Illinois adopted on the third day of September, Nineteen Hundred and Seventy, by the Sixth Illinois Constitutional Convention at the Old State Capitol in the City of Springfield. The proposed constitution will be run in its entirety before December 15, the voting date.)

ARTICLE XII MILITIA

Sect. 1. Membership: The state militia consists of all able-bodied persons residing in the State except those exempted by law.

Sect. 2. Subordination of Military Power: The military shall be in strict subordination to the civil power.

Sect. 3. Organization, Equipment and Discipline: The General Assembly shall provide by law for the organization, equipment and discipline of the militia in conformity with the laws governing the armed forces of the United States.

Sect. 4. Commander-in-Chief and Officers: (a) The Governor is commander-in-chief of the organized militia, except when they are in the service of the United States. He may call them out to enforce the laws, suppress insurrection or repel invasion.

(b) The Governor shall commission militia officers who shall hold their commissions for such time as may be provided by law.

Sect. 5. Privilege From Arrest: Except in cases of treason, felony or breach of peace, persons going to, returning from or on militia duty are privileged from arrest.

ARTICLE XIII GENERAL PROVISIONS

Sect. 1. Disqualification for Public Office: A person convicted of a felony, bribery, perjury or other infamous crime shall be ineligible to hold an office created by this Constitution. Eligibility may be restored as provided by law.

Sect. 2. Statement of Economic Interests: All candidates for or holders of state offices and all members of a Commission or Board created by this Constitution shall file a verified statement of their economic interests, as provided by law. The General Assembly by law may impose a similar requirement upon candidates for, or holders of, offices in units of local government and school districts. Statements shall be filed annually with the Secretary of State and shall be available for inspection by the public. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe a reasonable time for filing the statement. Failure to file a statement within the time prescribed shall result in ineligibility for, or forfeiture of, office. This Section shall not be construed as limiting the authority of any branch of government to establish and enforce ethical standards for that branch.

Sect. 3. Oath or Affirmation of Office: Each prospective holder of a State office or other State position created by this Constitution, before taking office, shall take and subscribe to the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Illinois, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of . . . to the best of my ability."

Sect. 4. Sovereign Immunity Abolished: Except as the General Assembly may provide by law, sovereign immunity in this State is abolished.

Sect. 5. Pension and Retirement Rights: Membership in any pension or retirement system of the State, any unit of local government or school district, or any agency or instrumentality thereof, shall be an enforceable contractual relationship, the benefits of which shall not be diminished or impaired.

Sect. 6. Corporations: Corporate charters shall be granted, amended, dissolved, or extended only pursuant to general laws.

Sect. 7. Public Transportation: Public transportation is an essential public purpose for which public funds may be expended. The General Assembly by law may provide for, aid, and assist public transportation, including the granting of public funds or credit to any corporation or public authority authorized to provide public transportation within the State.

Sect. 8. Branch Banking: Branch banking shall be authorized only by law approved by three-fifths of the members voting on the question of a majority of the members elected, whichever is greater, in each house of the General Assembly.

ARTICLE XIV CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION

Sect. 1. Constitutional Convention: (a) Whenever three-fifths of the members elected to each house of the General Assembly so direct, the question of whether a Constitutional Convention should be called shall be submitted to the electors at the general election next occurring at least six months after such legislative direction.

(b) If the question of whether a Convention should be called is not submitted during any twenty-year period, the Secretary of State shall submit such question at the general election in the twentieth year following the last submission.

(c) The vote on whether to call a Convention shall be on a separate ballot. A Convention shall be called if approved by three-fifths of those voting on the question or a majority of those voting in the election.

(d) The General Assembly, at the session following approval by the electors, by law shall provide for the Convention and for the election of two delegates from each Senatorial District; designate the time and place of the Convention's first meeting which shall be within three months after the election of delegates; fix and provide for the pay of delegates and officers; and provide for expenses necessarily incurred by the Convention.

(e) To be eligible to be a delegate a person must meet the same eligibility requirements as a member of the General Assembly. Vacancies shall be filled as provided by law.

(f) The Convention shall prepare such revision of or amendments to the Constitution as it deems necessary. Any proposed revision or amendments approved by a majority of the delegates elected shall be submitted to the electors in such manner as the Convention determines, at an election designated or called by the Convention occurring not less than two nor more than six months after the Convention's adjournment. Any revision or amendments proposed by the Convention shall be published with explanations, as the Convention provides, at least one month preceding the election.

(g) The vote on the proposed revision or amendments shall be on a separate ballot. Any proposed revision or amendments shall become effective, as the Convention provides, if approved by a majority of those voting on the question.

Sect. 2. Amendments by General Assembly: (a) Amendments to this Constitution may be initiated in either house of the General Assembly. Amendments shall be read in full on three different days in each house and reproduced before the vote is taken on final passage. Amendments approved by the vote of three-fifths of the members elected to each house shall be submitted to the electors at the general election next occurring at least six months after such legislative approval, unless withdrawn by a vote of a majority of the members elected to each house.

(b) Amendments proposed by the General Assembly shall be published with explanations, as provided by law, at least one month preceding the vote thereon by the electors. The vote on the proposed amendment or amendments shall be on a separate ballot. A proposed amendment shall become effective as the amendment provides if approved by either three-fifths of those voting on the question or a majority of those voting in the election.

(c) The General Assembly shall not submit proposed amendments to more than three Articles of the Constitution at any one election. No amendment shall be proposed or submitted under this Section from the time a Convention is called until after the electors have voted on the revision or amendments, if any, proposed by such Convention.

Sect. 3. Constitutional Initiative for Legislative Article: Amendments to Article IV of this Constitution may be proposed by a petition signed by a number of electors equal in number to at least eight percent of the total votes cast for candidates for Governor in the preceding gubernatorial election. Amendments shall be limited to structural and procedural subjects contained in Article IV. A petition shall contain the text of the proposed amendment and the date of the general election at which the proposed amendment is to be submitted, shall have been signed by the petitioning electors not months preceding that general election and shall be filed with the Secretary of State at least six months before that general election. The procedure for determining the validity and sufficiency of a petition shall be provided by law. If the petition is valid and sufficient, the proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors at that general election and shall become effective if approved by either three-fifths of those voting on the amendment or a majority of those voting in the election.

Sect. 4. Amendments to the Constitution of the United States: The affirmative vote of three-fifths of the members elected to each house of the General Assembly shall be required to request Congress to call a Federal Constitutional Convention, to ratify a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, or to call a State Convention to ratify a proposed Constitution of the United States. The General Assembly shall not take action on any proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States submitted for ratification by legislatures unless a majority of the members of the General Assembly shall have been elected after the proposed amendment has been submitted for ratification. The requirements of this Section shall govern to the extent that they are not inconsistent with requirements established by the United States.

'Barefoot burglar' cools heels?

LOCKPORT — A suspect in the "Barefoot Burglar" case is now cooling his heels in the local jail.

William P. Brown, 19, of 600 W. Ninth St., Lockport, was arrested by city police early Saturday morning. Officer Paul Rodriguez became suspicious when he noticed a back window of the Moose hall open about 3:45 a.m.

He contacted the other squad car and Officers Dan Tully and David Skocy. When Brown emerged from the Moose hall officers fired a warning shot over his head, and when he failed to stop, chased him to an alley in the 1000 block of State St. where he was apprehended.

His alleged accomplice, a 16-year-old Lockport juvenile, was arrested at his home, where police reportedly found several items which have been stolen here.

Eleven downtown businesses have been the victims of either robberies or attempted break-ins in the last week, all with the same method of entry — through a broken window.

At the scene of at least two, bare footprints were found, giving the burglar his nickname.

On Oct. 24 Tony & Earl's Arco station at 16th and State was robbed of $30 to $40 in currency. On Oct. 25 Cassanova's Standard Station at Third and State was robbed of $70 in currency and several books of trading stamps. The same night, Hank's Standard Station at Ninth and Lincoln was robbed, with a loss of about $25, trading stamps and four trophies.

On Oct. 27 St. Dennis School was entered through a window. About $15 in cash was taken, along with a transistor radio and several keys to the school. The building also was extensively vandalized.

On the same night the Christian Church at 315 E. 11th St. was entered and a tape recorder stolen along with two cameras. One of the cameras was found at St. Dennis School.

On Oct. 28 Mackin Motors on State St. was broken into, but nothing was reported missing.

However, on the same night the Union 76 Station at 11th and State, about half a block from Mackin, was robbed of about $22 in currency.

Also on Oct. 28, an attempted break-in was reported at the Lockport Body Shop. After an unsuccessful attempt at forcing the door, the thieves broke a window to gain entry, but were surprised by a handyman asleep in the building.

The Blue Willow Gift Shop on Route 7 reported to police that their door also had been pried but nothing was taken. The incident also took place Oct. 28.

That same night, four cars parked on State St. were relieved of batteries, and the wires ripped out.

On Oct. 30 the Manhattan-

Ette Dress Shop, Ogren's Press and the Moose hall were entered. Ogren's did not report any loss, but jewelry and money were taken from the clothing store, and money, candy bars, and cigarettes from the Moose hall.

Police said Brown had money on his person when arrested. He reportedly admitted knowledge of the robberies at Tony & Earl's, Cassanova's, the Christian Church and St. Dennis School. He also reportedly implicated the juvenile.

Brown was arrested on seven counts of burglary, including Ogren's, the Manhattan-Ette and the Moose hall. His accomplice reportedly admitted knowledge of Tony & Earl's, St. Dennis School, the three Friday night break-ins and the Union 76 robbery, which police suspect might have been a one-man job.

Brown was being held without bond and was to be arraigned at the Will County Court house the first of the week. The juvenile in the case will be transferred to the Will County Juvenile Section and then turned over to Family Court.

Lt. Robert Miller of the city police said state police and Romeoville police assisted Lockport men in searching the Moose hall when it was thought more persons might still be inside the building.

During the investigation the Lockport Police have been assisted by the Illinois Crime Laboratory.

Miller said many of the stolen items have been recovered.

Care should be taken to avoid joining the "over-medicated American" set.

True, the variety and abundance of drug remedies available can protect one's health. However, wrongly or excessively use, drugs threaten good health.

Self-medication involves using drugs available without a prescription. Such drugs, known as over-the-counter (OTC) drugs, aid in the treatment of simple conditions that the average person can diagnose — headache or indigestion, for example.

OTC drugs are safe in the recommended dosage, says Lawrence O'Reilly, University of Illinois Extension health education specialist. But in overdosages they may be extremely dangerous.

The chemicals in all drugs — even the most common OTC preparations — affect a function or part of the body. If misused, if used in excessive amounts or for too long a period of time, they may be harmful.

Using such drugs to treat persistent or frequently reoccurring symptoms can also be dangerous. The symptoms may warn of a more serious illness requiring professional diagnosis and treatment.

The combined effect of two or more drugs on the body can differ greatly from the action of each drug taken separately. Sometimes combining drugs produces dangerous, even fatal, reactions. Each drug acts not only on the body, but also it may act upon and increase the effect of other drugs — a condition known as "potentiation."

Persons regularly taking prescription medication should seek and follow a doctor's advice before using OTC drugs at the same time. Although not a drug, alcohol can potentiate the effect of a drug — especially when combined with sleeping pills or antihistamines. Again, physician's advice should be sought before using alcohol while taking either prescription or OTC drugs.

The hazards of self-medication most often result from carelessness, faulty self-diagnosis and failure to heed the warnings and directions for use of the drug.

The person himself is his best protection against any harmful effects of self-medication. O'Reilly advocates following these rules for safety:

Treat drugs with respect — not fear or filppancy.

Carefully read and follow directions for use.

Buy drugs in realistic quantities and discard unused portions when old.

Take only those prescription drugs prescribed specifically for you.

Combine drugs only with the approval of your doctor.

Seek professional advice when symptoms persist or return.

Have medical check-ups regularly.

Kettle of soup savory

The old-fashioned soup kettle hangs from hardly a single fireplace this day and age, but the savory soups that emerged from the black iron pot are still to be remembered and duplicated today.

The blending of flavors and ingredients was the secret of success then as it is now. It is only interesting variations that bring challenge and intrigue into the soup world.

The joys of potato soup certainly are not new. Swiss potato soup is just one example of the imagination the modern homemaker might put into soup preparation. Fresh whole milk and flavorful Swiss cheese are blended with mashed potatoes in this version to produce a soup that is both hot and hearty and nourishing and nutritious. What better way to entertain after a brisk skating or skiing session than with a mug of soup. Crispy bread sticks served along with potato soup are quick "warmer-uppers" for all groups.

Of course, one does not need to wait for a skating party to try this exciting potato version. Why not add Swiss potato soup to your list of winter luncheon favorites?

- 2 tablespoons butter.
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes
- 2 cups milk
- 2 cups shredded Swiss cheese (½ pound)
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- Crisp bacon pieces
- Chopped chives

Melt butter in saucepan. Add onion and saute until transparent. Add potatoes then milk, stir to blend well. Blend in cheese, salt and pepper. Heat slowly to serving temperature, stirring until cheese melts. (Do not boil.) Garnish with bacon and chopped chives. Makes 5 half-cups.

2 students win contest

LOCKPORT — Two Lockport West students were honored as prize winners in the 1970 "Employ the Handicapped" poster contest.

Joe Jerima of the Disabled American Veterans and Oscar Russell, representative of the State Employment Service, presented the awards. The First place award of $25 in Class II competition went to Mike Kinder, and the Merit Award to Gene Matlock.

This annual contest is to improve job opportunities for handicapped workers is sponsored by the DAV and the state Employment Service.

Sulfur removal plan set

Commonwealth Edison Co. is preparing to spend approximately $200-million in the next four years on an environmental control program which will include two sulfur removal projects at coal fired generating plants.

One of these is in Will County, southwest of Lemont, and the other at the state line generating station, Hammond, Ind.

The power company has contracted with Universal Oil Products Co., Des Plaines, Ill., to install the process at the Hammond plant.

According to J. Harris Ward, Edison board chairman, the installation at Hammond will be the pilot plant to evaluate a unique process for elimination of sulfur dioxide and recovery of the sulfur and will cost about $4-million. He added that the system is expected to be in operation by the end of 1971.

M.P. Venema, UOP board chairman, said the State Line installation will mark the first field demonstration of his company's proprietary process to extract elemental sulfur from the stack gasses of a coal-fired plant. The sulfur will be of marketable grade, he said.

The UOP designed facility will use a wet scrubbing process to absorb sulfur dioxide and prevent it from getting into the atmosphere. After the sulfur dioxide is recovered from the scrubbing solution and converted into sulfur, the cleansed reagent will be recirculated to the scrubber for reuse. The regenerative feature of the system will eliminate any waste disposal problem.

Procon Incorporated, an international construction firm and subsidiary of UOP, will construct the facility.

It was said the pilot plant will be able to treat about 80,000 cubic feet of stack gasses per minute. The UOP system is designed to remove all of the sulfur dioxide from the flue gasses, it was said.

"We have high hopes that the Universal Oil process at State Line station will provide a break-through in sulfur removal technology," Ward said. "It is the first of two different systems Commonwealth Edison plans to install at its generating stations in order to advance the research and development of these environmental control processes."

Details of the other sulfur removal installations, planned for the station near Lemont, will be announced when negotiations with suppliers are completed, Ward said.

Area scholars win honors

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission has named a number of area students as State Scholar in the 1971-72 competitive State Scholarship Program. High school academic record and examination scores are used in the selection.

Among local recipients are Pamela Swank, Bolingbrook, and David Brockup, Peggy Bromberek, William Daniels, Barbara Figler, Ann Galati, Christopher Glynn, Max Helix, Krista Hucher, Carol Hudek, Kenneth Hutchinson, Audrey Johnson, Raymond Kluga, Audrey Madeja, Ellen Mankowski, Rhonda Miller, Nancy Molson, Kathleen Murray, Roseanna Peetoom, Michael Roberts, Gary Unnerstall, and Alan Watson, all of Lemont.

Vroom!! Buggies

By Kathy Kamienski

Grrrrr, rumble, rumble and swish, and the all terrain vehicle (ATV) is off and conquering!

Up embankments, through ponds and streams, zooming along almost any surface for that matter, are the drivers and machines in the all terrain vehicle rallies.

Call them mud cats, or hustlers or any such "toughy" name. Popularity is new for the machines.

Fans call them a cross between a dune buggy and a World War II tank.

"They're used only for recreation now. The ATV isn't equipped to go out on the open road. But the courses for rallies or for just plain fun are purposely designed to make it tough on the machine and the driver," said Patrick Begg, a director for the All Terrain Vehicle Association, a nationwide enthusiast group.

Mother, father, son or daughter, almost anyone can handle the ATV and handle it safely, Begg says.

"It's like anything else, you get a man and a new machine and he finds another man and another machine and they race. That's something as old as time," Begg said, describing the catching on in popularity for the vehicles.

The ATV operates like a tank. Let go and it goes. For a turn, brake pressure is applied on the appropriate side.

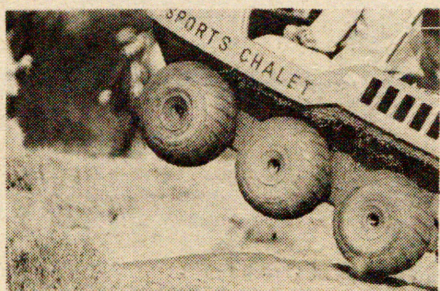

Six wheel or eight wheel varieties are now on the market. As many as seven adult passengers can be carried in some of the ATV's.

The wheels are really reinforced inner tubes with about 1.5 pounds of pressure in each, Begg said.

Depending on horsepower the ATV's can go from 35 to 60 m.p.h. Cost is near $1,500 for a typical model.

Hunting, fishing or just plain fun are all reasons why families are getting interested in the ATV's.

Just watch, it can do anything!

This clump of dirt is no real threat for the ATV's. Most can handle inclines up to 45 degrees.

Vikings upset Knights in SW

NEW LENOX -- The Lincoln-Way Knights football team will finish its season this Saturday against Evergreen Park. Last Saturday the Knights took a 28-6 beating from -- of all teams -- Homewood-Flossmoor. Homewood-Flossmoor was a contender last year but this year it has not been doing so well until it met Lincoln-Way. It was the seventh loss for Lincoln-Way.

The first half was fairly even. It ended with Homewood on top of a 7-0 score but the Knights were able to keep them contained. In the third period, however, the Vikings of Homewood got off with two big gainers. Jim Thompson, a transfer student to Homewood, got away for a 63-yard touchdown run when the quarter was nearly over and a couple of minutes later was off again, this time for a 39-yard gallop to paydirt. Gowen scored the first and last of the Vikings four touchdowns, both on passes, the first a 48-yarder by Andreas and the last a 26 yard toss by Boner.

Lincoln-Way's touchdown was scored in the fourth quarter by Tom Luscombe on a one-yard plunge. Before the quarter was over Lincoln-Way had recovered a Homewood fumble. A couple of plays later Luscombe was pounding up the middle when he was decked by half a dozen Vikings who drove Luscombe into the turf. No doubt the officials would have handed Homewood a stiff penalty but there was no opportunity. As the Vikings gave Luscombe the business the Lincoln-Way bench cleared and the fight was on. The game was called with several minutes left on the clock. Supt. Joseph Kruzich and his athletic director, Ron Stopka, were to have met with the athletic director from Homewood-Flossmoor Monday and prepare a report of the incident to be filed this week with the Illinois High School State Athletic Association.

Suggestions for holiday mailing

LEMONT -- The post office has listed six tips on how residents can help meet tight Christmas budgets by careful mailing of cards and parcels.

For the most efficient mailing, the following is suggested:

1. For servicemen overseas, "SAM" (Space Available Mail) Christmas parcels can be sent until Nov. 20 for only the small domestic parcel post charge involved from Lemont to East or West Coast points of embarkation for military mail. Parcels up to five pounds and 60 inches in combined length and girth are accepted at the low rate.

2. Larger parcels (up to 30 pounds with the same length and girth limitations) can be sent as "PAL" (Parcel Airlift) mail, provided they are mailed by Nov. 27. The charge is $1 per parcel.

3. For all packaging, invest in good quality, sturdy wrapping materials. This small investment can help ensure undamaged delivery of valuable gifts and prevent delays if rewrapping is required.

4. Insure parcels realistically to cover full value, but do not overinsure. A $10 gift, for example, can bring only $10 compensation if lost, even if insured for $100.

5. Get plenty of stamps on the first trip to the post office to avoid the time and expense of additional trips.

6. Use ZIP code as a tool for economy in mailing. When it is used consistently on parcels and cards, ZIP code helps prevent errors in delivery and expedites handling.

Yule contest

LEMONT -- The Lemont Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Christmas Home Decorating Contest for all homeowners in the Lemont Township area.

Judges have been selected from outside the Lemont area and will judge entries on Dec. 21, 22 and 23. The winners will be chosen on the basis of originality and beauty.

The chamber will award $75 for first place, $50 for second and $25 for third place.

Entries, with name and address, may be mailed to Rich Hancasky, 1150 State St., Lemont, no later than Dec. 15.

Machine Age at Chelsea

Students at Frankfort's Chelsea Elementary School have entered the machine age with a research learning center now in use at the school. Students using the center are from the first through fourth grades and are recommended for the program by their teachers.

Above, a Cub Scout changes a slide as he listens to a taped program lesson. At left, a student uses a film strip projector to learn letters. The teacher had asked, "How many small u's are in this row?" The children count as the light path scans five letters at a time over a total of 15 letters a line. Below, a student plays phonetic bingo with the instructor in the large amounts of plain working space provided in the center.

Ski lovers to meet

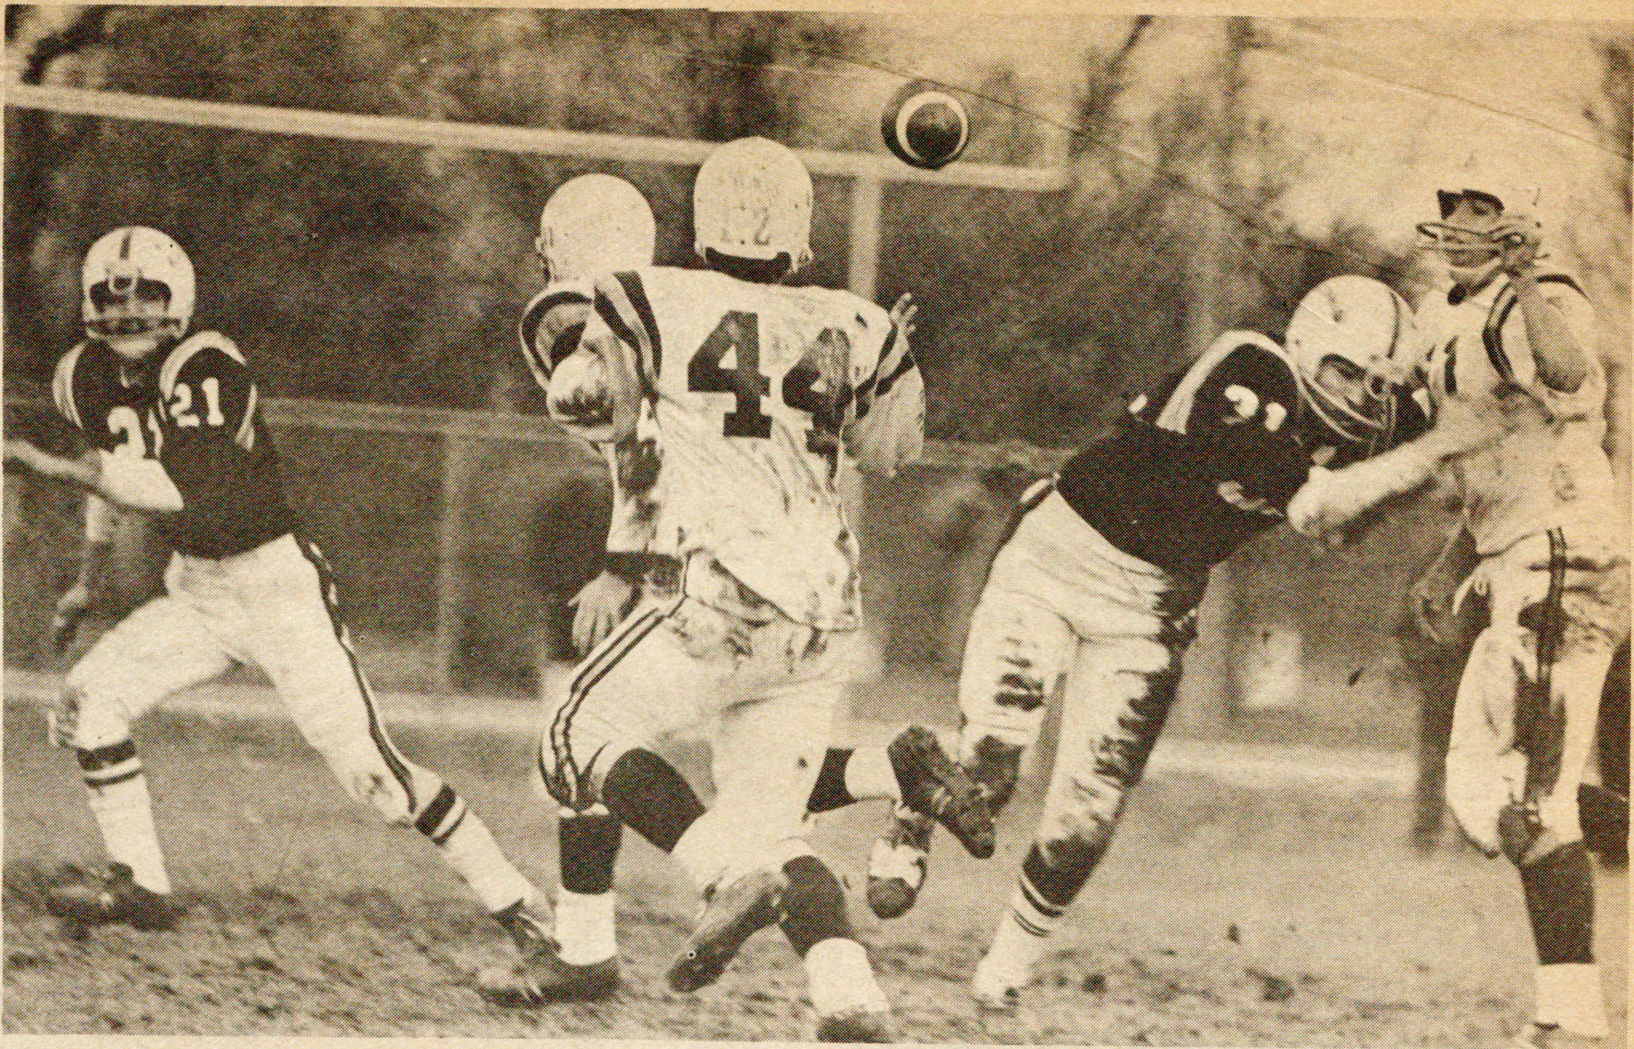

NEW LENOX — Ski enthusiasts will meet at 8 p.m. Nov. 12 in the drivers' education room at Lincoln-Way High School. Ronald Stopka, athletic director at Lincoln-Way will discuss the fifth annual ski trip, of which he is the sponsor.

The trip, which will be by train to Colorado, is planned for spring vacation, April 10-18. The cost is $170 and covers everything but tow tickets. Students and adults from the Lincoln-Way, Joliet and Lockport areas are invited.

Flag football

LOCKPORT — The grade school flag football season promoted by the Lockport Township Park Department regular league play was concluded Saturday, Oct. 24.

Winners of the five leagues and two divisions are as follows: Bantam Division—American League, Dellwood Vikings (5-0-0); Continental League, Chaney Cowboys, (4-0-1); National League, Kelvin Grove Seals (4-1-0); Junior Division—American League, Chaney Braves (4-1-0); National League, Richland Eagles (4-0-1).

Lemont downs Lisle for 5th league win

LEMONT — Second place Lemont scored a Northwest Conference victory Saturday afternoon over Lisle on Lisle's field. The 20-6 victory brought the Injuns to a 5-2 overall record.

Dwayne Slaton paced the Injuns with two touchdowns scored in the first and last quarters. A second-quarter touchdown came on a pass from Mike Kennedy to Mark Forzley one minute into the second period.

The winning Injuns recovered a Lisle fumble on the Lion's 45-yard line and were able to drive for the score in 11 plays. Slaton scored from four yards and Bill Daniels caught a Kennedy pass for a two-point conversion to give Lemont an 8-0 lead.

Forzley brought the Injuns to a 14-0 lead in the second quarter when the conversion attempt failed.

The Lion's first touchdown was set up when they blocked a Lemont punt and recovered the ball on the Lemont 48. Dale Smith scored 14 plays later on a 13-yard run with a little more than four minutes remaining in the third period.

Midway through the first quarter, Slaton scored his second touchdown after his teammates had intercepted five Lisle passes. A 34-yard pass from Kennedy to Richard Pierce set up the score from four yards out.

Lemont will host conference champion Dwight Saturday afternoon.

Lincoln-Way sets sights on cross country title

Lincoln - Way High School's cross country team and David Merrick will go to the state finals at Peoria Saturday with the idea of coming back with the state crown. In Merrick's case it will be a case of keeping what he holds. Last year he won the state title in cross country.

Barring accident or illness, an earthquake or tornado, Merrick should win at Peoria Saturday. He has been winning steadily for the past two years and observers familiar with the sport say Merrick is one of the best prep school distance runners in the country.

He sailed through the district meet at East Joliet earlier in the week and last Saturday finished first in the Illinois High School Association sectional cross country run at Glenbard East, covering the 2.75 mile course in 13:15, half a minute ahead of Ron Ellis, of Glenbard West.

Lincoln-Way harriers, as a team, finished second in the sectional which qualified them for the state finals.

Brothers team up for Graphic prize

A pair of Bolingbrook brothers were awarded first prize this week as top Southwest Graphic newsboys in the village of Bolingbrook.

Lockport West frosh wins first

A Lockport West high school freshman was awarded first prize this week as top Southwest Graphic newsboy in the Village of Hampton Park.

Dan Kraus, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kraus, 519 Kenyon, Hampton Park, was awarded a transistor radio for his efforts in enlisting new subscribers for the Southwest Graphic.

The energetic frosh is one of over 20 newsboys and girls who distributes the Southwest Graphic weekly in Hampton Park.

Although Citizen's Band radio operating claims much of Dan's free time, his first love is drums.

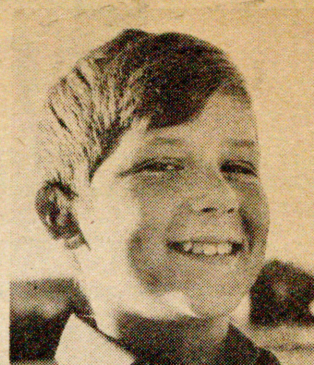

A former recipient of a percussion award from Westview Junior High School, Dan is now a member of the Lockport West High School band.

Mark, 13, and John Sekulich, 11, sons of Mr. and Mrs. D. Miller, 147 Lawton, Bolingbrook, were awarded transistor radios for their high grade performance in a recently held subscription drive.

In addition to sales ability, the Sekulich brothers share many common interests. Both are excellent students, usually carrying an "A"

YOUR BANK

Our picture this week is of LaVerne Wydeveld, personal secretary to our Executive Vice President. She has been at Orland State Bank for the past 16 years.

LaVerne is a native of Orland Park and she and her husband "Red" now reside in Oak Forest.

Following in her mother's footsteps, her daughter, Louise, is now employed as a secretary at the bank also.

Anyone who has had any dealings with our real estate and mortgage loan department is well aware of LaVerne's efficiency in this field. "She is indispensable to our operation" according to Mr. Schussler, for whom she works.

We would like you to visit our real estate loan department whenever you have need for a mortgage.

A Thought for the Day

Our Father, when we long for life without trials and work without difficulties, remind us that oaks grow strong and contrary winds and diamonds are made under pressure. With stout hearts, may we see in every calamity an opportunity, and not give way to the pessimism that sees in every opportunity a calamity.

A Thought To Remember BY BOB HIRSCH

The late John Wannamaker once said, "Half the money I spend in advertising is wasted. But I have never been able to figure out just which half."

Maybe he was jesting. Maybe not. We don't know. But we do know there are problems in even attempting to do any funeral home advertising. Almost all funeral homes can and do say the same things. The ads usually stress quiet, dignified service; reverent care; sympathetic understanding; reputation for attention to detail — and so on. Actually however, when funeral home services are needed, the selection is nearly always made for reasons of reputation.

Through the years, our firm has earned a deservedly good reputation. Many families already know this. Even so, to better acquaint everyone with who we are, what we stand for, how and what we think, — this new column will appear every week in this paper. Watch for it. Read it. You will find it interesting...

SUBSTITUTE TEACHER SUBSTITUTE SECRETARY WHY NOT?

You know the status that a substitute teacher enjoys, she is called in to bridge the gap (when the regular teacher for some reason or another cannot make it). Here at Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital we are pioneering the SUBSTITUTE SECRETARY. When one of our regular secretaries is absent, that's when we will call you. We will notify you one or two days in advance to replace the absent secretary. The decision is yours if you want to come in, and you will work the hours you want.

Salary will be equal that given to a substitute teacher.

CHEMICAL PLANT TECHNICIANS

Process Technicians

If you have at least three years operating experience in a continuous process chemical plant, we would like to talk with you about your future.

Instrument Technicians

Outstanding career opportunities are available for young men who can qualify for our industrial instrumentation program. Most positions require a minimum of two years direct experience with process (pneumatics-electronic) equipment. Men with electronics background acquired through service training, trade school, or college will be considered.

Laboratory Technicians

Process control positions are available for men with two or more years control lab experience. Applicants may substitute two years of college with a minimum of 10 hours college chemistry or direct experience.

TRAINEE

Technician trainee positions are available in all areas at Northern Petrochemical. If you are in excellent physical condition and are willing to work shifts, come out and visit our employment office and discuss the many career opportunities available with Northern Petrochemical.

If interested apply at our Employment Office located on U.S. Highway 6, nine miles west of Joliet and seven miles east of Morris, Illinois.

Monday, Wednesday, Friday — Hours 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday — Hours 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. (Interviews not held Tuesdays or Thursdays)
If unable to apply in person, submit a resume or letter with full work background and salary history to:
